Since 2005, Sam Slagle has been devoted to assisting families and businesses. Whether it be a sole proprietor providing for his or her family or a large company with multiple generations all working together, he has helped them set and attain their goals.

Sam specializes in employee benefits and personal planning for business owners. He enjoys learning the particulars of each business and building long-lasting relationships with the people who run them. Sam has an in-depth knowledge of both the day-to-day issues that businesses face and long-term strategies to transfer assets to the next generation. He has a deep understanding of the many complexities that go along with the Affordable Care Act and is on the cutting edge of products and plans created in response to the legislation. As the market changes, Sam helps his clients to re-align their benefits packages and ensure they maximize every dollar possible to help provide the most valuable and appreciated benefits to their employees.

Sam was born and raised in Virginia Beach, Virginia. He graduated from Cape Henry Collegiate School. He received his Bachelor's degree in Business Management from James Madison University in 2005. Shortly after graduating, he returned to his hometown and began working for The Frieden Agency. Outside of the office, Sam enjoys fishing, boating and just spending time on the water with his family.
